

MADRONE

VINEYARDS ESTATE

Tony Stewart Chief Executive Officer

Tony is a second generation wine grower of the Stewart family. A pioneering west coast wine family, the Stewarts have over a half-century of experience farming exceptional vineyards and crafting fine wines. Their philosophy has been to do more with less, with a commitment to low impact viticulture practices and vineyards solely focused on providing the winery team with ripe concentrated fruit that expresses its sense of origin.

A lover of fine wine and regional food influences, Tony believes intently that the winery experience must focus the consumer not only towards the wines but also to the pairing of these wines with local culinary traditions. His unwavering commitment to quality wines and excellence in customer service is passed on through the entire team.

Tony's vision and guidance have been instrumental in developing another Stewart family property, Quails' Gate, as one of Canada's top wine and culinary destinations. At Madrone Vineyards Estate, Tony and the Stewart family are deeply committed to implementing the same uncompromising dedication to producing quality wines and estate offerings.
